To Whom This May Concern,

I recommend Brian Washington for the role of Parliamentarian for the National Association of Health Services Executives (NAHSE) National Board of Directors. I've known Brian since 2013, and he's always been involved and an integral part of our St. Louis Chapter's growth and success. He leveraged his strategic planning background to help guide our thinking and chapter development. He created and served as chair of our chapter's Community Outreach & Program Development Committee and instituted a student support and scholarship fund to help recruit and program events for health administrative students and early careerists. From there, he went on to serve as our current sitting chapter president, leading us to new heights, winning a number of national awards. Without hesitation, NAHSE would be well served to have Brian lead at the national level. I am confident that Brian would be a great parliamentarian.

If you have any questions regarding my thoughts on Mr. Washington, please contact me at andwele.jolly@wustl.edu

Best,

Andwele Jolly
